TITLE:

Introduction of an Ordinance to Repeal and Reenact With Amendments, Chapter 5 of the City Code Entitled, "Buildings," and Adopt by Reference, With Certain Modifications, the International Building, International Residential, International Mechanical, International Energy, and International Fuel Gas Code 2000

SUPPORTING BACKGROUND:

Enclosed herewith are proposed amendments to the new International Building Codes which have been developed by the Building Officials and Code Administrators International (BOCA), the International Conference of Building Officials (ICBO), and the Southern Building Code Congress International (SBCCI) in an effort to utilize one Building Code Nation Wide. The 2000 International Codes have been adopted by the State of Maryland.

The majority of the amendments are administrative in nature and resemble those amendments currently in place for the 1996 BOCA building code. Other similar amendments include provisions such as roof top screening, load requirements for various components of construction, and the like.

Significant changes include:

A provision requiring that all single family houses constructed under this new code be constructed with an automatic residential sprinkler system. These systems are currently required in multi-family and townhouses in the City.

A provision to address mold in residential dwellings in new construction. This provision will prohibit the use of materials that exhibit visual signs of mold growth, and require that any materials that exhibit mold growth during construction be removed and replaced prior to Occupancy approval by the City of Gaithersburg.

DESIRED OUTCOME:

Introduce Ordinance and Announce Public Hearing Schedule for November 4, 2002.

CHAPTER 5

BUILDINGS

Article I. The International Building Code (2000)

Sec. 5-1. Building Code --- Adoption of The International Building Code (2000), including the (2001) Supplement to the International Codes (to be used as clarification of errata, only, in the ICC 2000 series codes.)

The International Building Code (2000), including the (2001) Supplement to the International Codes, unless specified otherwise in this article, as published by The International Code Council, Inc., is hereby adopted as the building code of the City, except as modified by Section 5-3.

Section 5-2.
